Blanch the Potatoes for 2-3 minutes in boiling water and then mash them with a fork. In a hot pan, fry the Grouper for 1 minute with a pinch of oil, chopped garlic and parsley. Prepare the filling: in a bowl mix the Grouper with the mashed Potatoes and once the mixture has cooled down, add in the egg white. If the mixture is too wet, incorporate some potato Fiocki to reach the desired consistency. Season with salt and pepper. Roll out the egg pasta dough and pack the "Plin" ravioli. Cook them in boiling salted water for 3-4 minutes. In the meantime, in another pan, sauté a little parsley, garlic with oil deglaze with a drop of brandy, then add in the Bisque and a little fish stock. Cook over a high heat until it is shiny and creamy. Once the ravioli are cooked, sauté them in a pan over low heat with a knob of butter, the Prawns and some fresh aromatic herbs. Put the bisque on the bottom of a bowl and place the ravioli on top, garnish with a sprig of chives.
